OF THE USA SUPREME AUDITING COMMITTEE

During the week of Monday, September 25, through September 29, three members of the USA sup­preme auditing committee—John F. Raskin, chairman, with officers of the Supreme Executive Committee and staff—visited the Ukrainian community at large, in association with the Association of Ukrainians in America, the Executive Committee of the American Committee of the Ukrainian Union in America and the community at large. The purpose of the trip was to discuss the financing of construction, the Auditing of the accounts of the audited auditing committees, the management of the community, and the question of the new building to be erected with special reference to its educational activities. It was the purpose of the building to be erected with special reference to its educational activities. It was the purpose of the building to be erected with special reference to its educational activities. It was the purpose of the building to be erected with special reference to its educational activities.

The building is scheduled to be completed by the end of the year, and despite the financial difficulties of the community, the new building will be erected at a cost of $1 million. The building will be equipped with the latest educational facilities, including a library, a lecture hall, and a gymnasium. The community is deeply grateful to the USA Supreme Auditing Committee for its support and assistance in this endeavor.

The Voting Rights Act of 1965

The Voting Rights Act of 1965 was a landmark piece of legislation that ensured the right to vote for all citizens. The Act addressed discrimination in voting and ensured that citizens had equal access to the ballot box.

With righteous indignation, let us now take our stand. Though he spreads terror through the land-, we'll teach them killed. But if they didn't kill you, they never could force me to towards the end of the line the best in

On October 7, 1972, a special issue of SVOBODA, THE UKRAINIAN WEEKLY, dedicated to the Ukrainian Culture Week, was published. The issue included a wide range of articles and features, all focused on highlighting Ukrainian culture and its significance.

One of the key articles in this issue was about Mark "Culture Week" With Arts Exhibit at College. It mentioned that the Ukrainian Cultural Week was being celebrated with an arts exhibit at a college, showcasing various Ukrainian arts and crafts. The exhibit included items such as ceramics, textiles, and musical instruments, which were displayed in the college's art gallery.

Another feature in the issue was about the Ukrainian National Home, a community center that provided various services and programs for Ukrainian Americans. The article highlighted the Home's role in preserving Ukrainian culture and heritage, and its contributions to the community.

The issue also included an article about the Ukrainian National Women's Alliance, which was holding its third conference on September 23-24. The conference was attended by representatives of several Ukrainian organizations, and it provided an opportunity for these groups to discuss important issues and developments in the Ukrainian community.

In addition to these features, the issue included articles on various other subjects, such as education, politics, and community events. The articles were authored by various individuals, including Dr. Anthony Zaloshny and Dr. Raymond Donohue.

Overall, this issue of SVOBODA, THE UKRAINIAN WEEKLY, provided a rich and diverse collection of content that reflected the vibrant and dynamic nature of the Ukrainian community. It served as a valuable resource for those interested in learning more about Ukrainian culture and its impact on the world.

Valentine

During the World War II, Robert W. Valentine, a 35-year-old medical officer, was serving as a professor of medicine at the University of California. He was born on December 6, 1910, in St. Louis, Missouri, and received his medical degree from the University of Missouri in 1932. Dr. Valentine was a member of the American Medical Association and was active in various medical societies.

In 1942, Dr. Valentine was appointed as the director of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and others. The UCCA held a three-day meeting in which Dr. Valentine, representing the Ukrainian National Association, presented a comprehensive report on the situation of Ukrainians in the U.S. The report was well-received by the audience, and Dr. Valentine was praised for his efforts in behalf of the Ukrainian community.

In later years, Dr. Valentine continued to be active in various Ukrainian organizations, and his contributions to the cause of the Ukrainian people were highly regarded. He passed away on July 15, 1955, leaving behind a legacy of dedication and service to the Ukrainian community.
